

Restore the Roar NYC Event

November 15, 2011

Event Details:

Tuesday, November 15 · 6:00pm – 11:00pm

The Ginger Man

11 East 36th Street

New York, NY

I don't think anyone ever imagined that such things could ever happen in a place called Happy Valley...

Whether we knew it or not, we became part of a family the moment we accepted our admissions to Penn State and as any family would do in rough times, we must stick together. It is our responsibility to begin rebuilding the integrity that PSU has worked so hard for through the years. Most importantly, we MUST do this for the victims and their families/friends affected by these disgusting and unforgettable events.

The response that this site (www.psupride.com) has received since it's recent inception is unbelievable.

We ask that you join us in the first (of many) PSU Pride events next Tuesday, November 15th starting at 6pm at The Ginger Man. This event is to provide an open forum, free of judgement, for all who are interested. In addition, any donations individuals wish to provide will all go to the "RAINN" organization, a fitting cause with the recent events. <http://www.rainn.org/ProudPSUforRAINN>

Please spread the word to anyone/everyone that may be interested.

TOGETHER we will overcome because TOGETHER we are PENN STATE.

« We still are... — Origins of We Are Penn State »

Tags: new york city, Penn State, rainn