

We are...

November 16, 2011

We are... the students, who embody the core values of the university and wear blue and white with pride.

We are... the faculty and staff, who strive to fulfill the mission of the university: education, research, and outreach.

We are... the alumni, who as artists, business leaders, doctors, engineers, lawyers, nurses, scientists, and teachers make the world a better place.

We are... Penn State!

May no act of ours bring shame.
