

Penn State Forever

July 31, 2012

We will look forward, but we will not forget the past. They can hide the statue and rewrite the record books, but they cannot erase our memories. Penn State football is fun, but it is not what keeps us coming back, and it does not define our Penn State experience. It is the people we met, the experiences we shared, the education we received that make this university so special to us.

We just visited the campus last week with our children and grandchildren (hopefully, some of whom will be 3rd generation Penn Staters.) We took pictures at the Lion, visited the creamery and revisited the places that still evoke so many happy memories. Still proud to be PSU alums.
